

27 Why is the mammalian circulatory system described as a double circulation?

- A Blood flows twice through the heart in one complete cardiac cycle.
- B Blood flows twice through the heart in one complete circuit of the body.
- C Blood remains within arteries, capillaries and veins.
- D Blood transports both oxygen and carbon dioxide.