

10 Which feature explains why haemoglobin is soluble?

- A All four polypeptide chains are linked together to form a spherical molecule.
- B Each polypeptide chain folds due to interactions between hydrophobic R groups.
- C The hydrophilic R groups are arranged around the outside of the molecule.
- D The iron-containing haem group of each polypeptide chain is water soluble.