

5 Measles is a highly infectious disease. The World Health Organization (WHO) has coordinated a programme for controlling this disease by using vaccination.

(a) (i) Name the pathogen that causes measles.

..... [1]

(ii) Explain how the measles pathogen is transmitted.

.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
..... [3]

(b) Fig. 5.1 shows the number of cases of measles globally each month between January 2015 and March 2019.

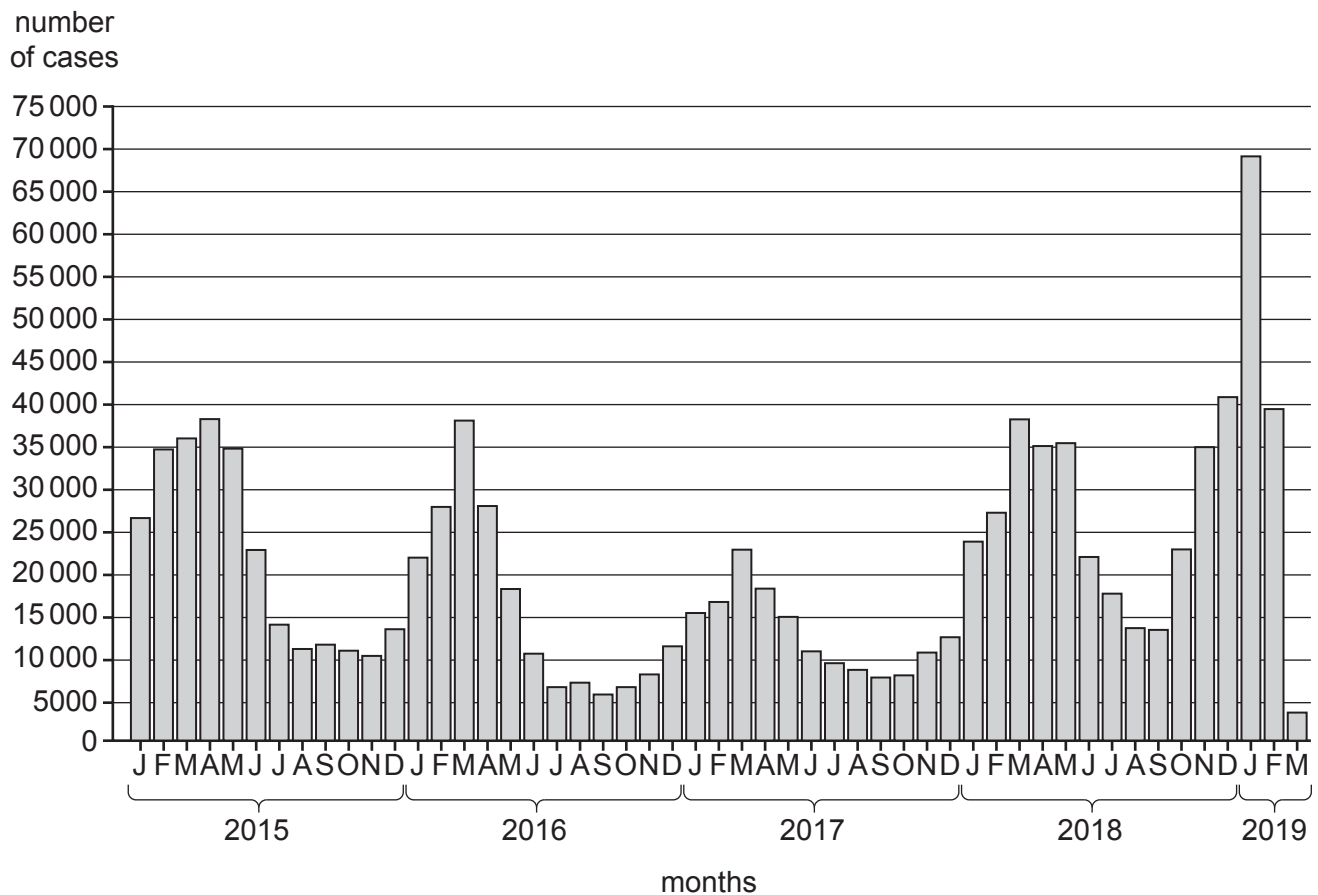

Fig. 5.1

Describe the pattern of measles cases as shown in Fig. 5.1.

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

- (c) Explain why measles has not yet been eradicated even though a vaccine has been available since the 1960s.

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

..... [4]

[Total: 11]