

11 Which feature of collagen enables it to fulfil a structural role in skin and in tendons?

- A Adjacent collagen molecules are linked by ester bonds.
- B Collagen fibres form layers with the fibres in different directions.
- C Collagen molecules are formed as a triple helix of polypeptide chains.
- D Polypeptide chains of collagen are tightly folded into compact shapes.