

34 Cigarette smoke contains carbon monoxide, nicotine and tar.

Which row correctly describes how these substances affect the body?

	carbon monoxide	nicotine	tar
A	stimulates nerve endings	stimulates the nervous system to reduce the diameter of the arteries	leads to obstructive lung disease
B	forms carbaminohaemoglobin	increases the risk of blood clots	blocks goblet cells
C	causes increased blood pressure	combines with haemoglobin	increases the risk of blood clots
D	combines with haemoglobin	stimulates nerve endings	carcinogenic