

37 The photomicrograph shows a part of the human gas exchange system with one tissue labelled P.

Which row is correct?

|   | part of gas exchange system | function of tissue P                           |
|---|-----------------------------|------------------------------------------------|
| A | bronchus                    | regulates the amount of air reaching the lungs |
| B | bronchus                    | provides support and prevents collapse         |
| C | bronchiole                  | regulates the amount of air reaching the lungs |
| D | bronchiole                  | provides support and prevents collapse         |