

37 Which statement about the development of resistance to antibiotics in bacteria is correct?

- A All mutations in bacteria result in resistance to antibiotics.
- B Antibiotics increase the rate of mutation in bacteria.
- C Mutations leading to antibiotic resistance only occur when antibiotics are used to treat pathogenic bacteria.
- D The proportion of antibiotic-resistant bacteria in a population only increases if the antibiotic is used.