

6(a)	atrial systole ; A atrial contraction and one from: volume of the atria is small(er) than in A ; A atria in stage B are smaller than those in stage A the atrioventricular / bicuspid and tricuspid, valves are open (and semilunar valves are closed) ; the blood is flowing (from the atria) into the ventricles ; if name of stage is incorrect accept correct description of atrial systole, no ecf for incorrectly named stage	2
------	--	----------

Question	Answer	Marks
6(b)(i)	label line to any part of a semilunar valve ; 	1
6(b)(ii)	prevent blood flowing backwards ; from the (named) arteries to the (named) ventricles ; or ensure blood flows in one direction ; from the (named) ventricles to the arteries ;	2